In the U.S. today, one in six people is Hispanic-American – up by 43% since 2000 and driving over 50% of the total population increase since 2008.

- 84% of Hispanic-Americans drink coffee, 12 percentage points ahead of non-Hispanics.
- Spanish-dominant Hispanics outpace bilinguals and English-preferred in overall daily coffee consumption.
- Almost half of all Hispanic-Americans drink gourmet coffee beverages daily, nearly double the number among the other groups.

Baronet Coffee has developed a proprietary blend to sell into this growing market called Café El Premio. This strong espresso based coffee has been developed to target the taste profiles of the growing Hispanic-American market.
