

ENE is guiding clients in energy budget optimization, environmental stewardship and revenue generation.

The Coffee Company That Demands A Higher Standard — And Uniquely Understands Tight Times — Invited Energy New England To Help Them Manage Their Energy

Founded in 1930, Baronet Coffee soon discovered their great-tasting coffee was the only “luxury” depression-era people could afford.

Understanding how important their product was to their customers, the founders demanded that it “live up to a higher standard.” And, for more than 75 years, Baronet Coffee has consistently delivered the ultimate coffee experience to its loyal customers — such that, “One cup invites another.”

So, it was a great honor when Baronet Coffee “invited” Energy New England to help them reduce their energy costs and pursue new ways to optimize their energy budget.

ENE understands that surviving tight times requires pursuing opportunities to both save money and generate revenue. And ENE recognized Baronet Coffee demands service that lives up to a higher standard. So ENE was determined to mirror the commitment of Baronet’s founders and deliver extra value.

The extra-value Energy New England provided to Baronet Coffee includes:

- Lighting system upgrades throughout their manufacturing, office and warehouse areas which reduced their consumption and energy costs
- Enrollment in ISO’s Demand Response program so they could earn an ongoing revenue stream from the grid
- Billing evaluation services which identified overcharges in a utility bill, thus resulting in reduced energy costs going forward plus expense recoveries.

Just as Energy New England was honored to be invited to help Baronet save money and generate revenue, ENE would welcome the opportunity to help you optimize your energy budget. Contact Energy New England today for a “higher standard” of service.
